

Why over-allocate? Setting aside zero dollars is an option.

Pioneers of the Legal Zero allocation

Your Medicare compliance program can benefit greatly from experienced legal insight. Nowhere is that more evident than in the ISO Claims Partners Legal Zero program. All too often, a workers' compensation claim will go without the proper Medicare Secondary Payer (MSP) legal analysis, and as a result, an unnecessary Medicare Set-Aside (MSA) will be funded that wasn't required initially. Let our team of attorneys evaluate your denied claims to ensure you aren't over-allocating MSA dollars.

Proper examination can save your company a bundle

ISO Claims Partners is dedicated to eliminating unnecessary expenses in your compliance programs with a 93 percent CMS approval rate for Legal Zeros. Under the MSP guidelines, there are certain instances in workers' compensation settlements, even when future medicals are being closed, where setting aside no money (zero dollars) is appropriate. Legal Zero allocations are an option for most disputed and denied claims to ensure you aren't allocating MSA dollars unnecessarily.

Make smart decisions with our highly skilled team of experts

To get the most favorable agreement with Medicare on an MSA, you need to consider both the medical and legal issues involved in the underlying claim. ISO Claims Partners has a proven track record and has reduced conditional payments 70 percent of the time to zero dollars when a dispute is engaged.

Our team of highly experienced legal experts will collaborate directly with adjusters and defense counsel to provide direction to answer these key questions:

- Why should you allocate money for future medical treatment when you're not the primary payer?
- Why increase the cost of a settlement when you're dealing with a denied or disputed claim?
- Why abandon state law defenses just because the case involves Medicare?
