Insurers face uncertainty in court

Workers' compensation and liability claims are already difficult to manage. When those claims enter litigation, they can become even more unpredictable. Litigation can seem like a gamble: you hire what you think is a good attorney and hope for the best. But what if you could leverage data to improve your chances? Legal analytics does just that, and it's a game changer.

Enhance analytics solutions with litigation data

As the world's largest litigation database, Premonition™ provides unprecedented analysis of court data. Combine this with our leading analytic platforms and you have an opportunity to rethink your legal expense and performance metrics.

wcNavigator® and Liability Navigator® now feature seamless access to Premonition legal analytic services right in the platform.
