

How are you fighting U.S. Department of Treasury collections?

Treasury recovery notices are unrelenting, causing expensive headaches for your MSP compliance team

U.S Department of Treasury notices are showing up more frequently than ever – Medicare is referring cases to Treasury as soon as eligible.

States are joining in too. With 11 states and DC now enrolled in the State Reciprocal Program (SRP), state funding is increasingly being offset to pay Medicare debts.

Federal grants and payments are being intercepted by the Treasury Offset Program (TOP).

Treasury offsets are insidious, intercepting funds (such as tax returns, grants and subrogation) before you ever receive them, with little indication as to what claim is involved.

And the pace of collection is getting faster...

More of your team's time will be spent on dealing with the CRC as the agency's demands get more persistent

The Commercial Repayment Center (CRC) is making faster, more frequent efforts to recover conditional payments.

The U.S. Department of Treasury is maximizing recoveries by increasing use of the Treasury Offset Program.

During FY 2018, the CRC attempted to recover nearly $70 million in collections from the Treasury Department on delinquent NGHP MSP debts.*

We've seen a significant increase in Treasury referrals to date.
